The Speakers

Jon Pegg

Jonathan Pegg took BIAFF 2019 by storm, winning a Diamond award and the Best British entry award for his film Making Friends as the World Ends. Jonathan will be telling us about how this brilliant film came to life - and how it spawned a sequel!

David Johns

Now living on a narrowboat and doing freelance work, David was previously employed by ITV's regional news programme for the south-east, ITV News Meridian.

Today he creates videos about life afloat on YouTube channel 'Cruising The Cut', and about his DIY campervan conversion at 'Vandemonium' 'Cruising the Cut' recently reached the prestigious milestone of achieving 100,000 subscribers !

Chad Higgins

Born and bred in the West Midlands, Chad has been wrangling cameras since 1995.

Originally self-taught on an old Canon AE1 film camera, Chad's aim is to develop new methods of shooting timelapse sequences, developing new motion-control rigs and ticking off as many places as possible on his fanciful location list!

Having shot for everything from commercials, factual, drama, corporates and reality through to documentaries, film, natural history and science, his knowledge of the intricacies of Timelapse Photography is invaluable.

Alan Atkinson

Alan is known to everyone in the IAC and amateur filmmaking world, not only for his huge contribution to the hobby but particularly for his award-winning films. Alan has used CGI techniques in his filmmaking for many years, and he will be sharing his knowledge and expertise.
